Essential Oil - Eucalyptus 10ml

Originally from South Africa and Australia, eucalyptus leaves were traditionally used by Aboriginal peoples for their many medicinal properties, especially to help heal wounds. Eucalyptus Radiata shares similar benefits with globular eucalyptus but has a finer, fresher, and slightly sweeter scent. Its essential oil is well known for

Essential Oil - Frankincense Wild 5ml 	Known as “True Incense,” Frankincense comes from Boswellia sacra—a name also used interchangeably with Boswellia carterii. The word “Frankincense” originates from the Arabic al-lubân, meaning perfume incense. In Ayurvedic medicine, it is traditionally used for various skin conditions. The essential oil is extracted by distilling the aromatic resin, or oleoresin, once it has hardened.	RM 130
Essential Oil - Tea Tree 10ml 	Tea Tree belongs to the same family as cajeput and niaouli. Sailors in Captain Cook’s time used its leaves as a tea substitute—hence the name “tea tree.” During World War II, Australian authorities distributed tea tree essential oil for its infection-fighting properties. Traditionally, Australians have infused the leaves into herbal teas for their natural antibacterial effects. Its cleansing and purifying properties are widely recognized and valued.	RM 95

Organic E/V Olive Oil 250ml

Organic Avocado Oil 250ml

Activated Charcoal Powder 275g

This oil is cold-pressed from the finest grade of organic olives from Tunisia, a sunny nation blessed with rich soil, mild weather and ample rainfalls. Olive cultivation has been a Tunisian tradition passed down from generations since Roman times. The perfect blending of time-honoured traditional cultivation method and unique growing condition in Tunisia produces olives with exquisite aroma and flavour.

This greenish oil with its full bodied aroma is first cold pressed from specially selected organic avocado. Rich in omega 9 essential fatty acid, vitamin E and flavonoids, Emile Noel Avocado Oil is excellent in supporting skin and joint health.

Avocado oil is also known as the collagen oil for its ability to stimulate our body to produce collagen for skin, bones and joints.

Activated charcoal is a powerful adsorbing agent, capable of binding and holding

Commonly used in cases of drug overdose, it is also widely applied in filters to remove contaminants from air, water, and other substances. While highly effective in adsorbing gases and toxins, it does not adsorb strong alkalis, strong acids, or petroleum distillates. Traditionally, activated charcoal has been used to support the treatment of bloating, diarrhoea, food poisoning, and high uric acid levels. It may also be used externally in poultices to aid in the treatment of tumours.
